EXPLANATORY NOTE.

A PROMINENT feature of this Library from its origin, and one to which it has owed much of its great success, has been its open cases. Members have always been allowed to go directly to the shelves and make their own selection of books. In this respect its management has been widely different from that of all other large libraries: the practice in these being to place the books out of reach of the readers and give them out only through an attendant.

For some years a few books of special value or that were very liable to injury, have been placed in closed cases. These are books whose chief value is in their plates or other illustrations, those that are rare from the small number printed or the exhaustion of the edition, choice books that would be injured by promiscuous handling, and those that possessed some individual or other peculiarity.

These books are not separated from the others for the purpose of keeping them away from the members, but to have them under especial care and to preserve them in good condition, so that those who have occasion to use them may have the full benefit of their use.

These books are all accessible to the readers through an attendant, and the greater part of them may be taken out for home use. A few of them, designated on the catalogue by a *, are limited to use in the building, unless special permission is obtained from the board to take them away.

This catalogue has been printed to afford the members a knowledge of the books contained in these cases; and it is arranged by classes and subjects so as to afford a readier means of finding the books desired. The titles are made brief and no attempt has been made at bibliographical accuracy.
